Teach Intellectual Property In Your Community

How to Use the IPO Education Toolkit for Next Gen Innovat...
Step 2 HOW?
Use the slide deck, presenters and interactive videos for a 45-60 minute presentation.
Customize as needed to engage your group effectively!

Educate the next generation about the role intellectual property rights play in driving prosperity and enriching lives. Use the IPO Education Foundation toolkit to share core concepts about IP rights with middle and high school students. Help students understand the role that IP plays in all of our lives. Once students have completed the activity, make sure to provide a digital or print-out certificate of participation!

ADAPT (Advancing Diversity Across Patent Teams) has resources:

- Professional Guide
- Mentorship Program

<https://www.adapt.legal/>
